

Conference attention report of ICBMLS 2017

- Process which you join in the meeting?

The 15th International Conference on Business Management & Legal Studies (ICBMLS) by Global Association for Humanities and Social Science Research (GAHSSR) was held on 06th – 07th June 2017 at Rome, Italy. ICBMLS-2017 was well organized and very well attended. The conference includes many interesting academic topics in many fields of business management, thus leading experts and researchers gathered to present, discuss and share knowledge about their topics. The attendance exceeded the expectation. The oral and poster presentation program was on 06th – 07th June 2017. On 07th June, in business management session, I presented on the topic of “Application of Data Envelopment Analysis and Malmquist Index on the Measurement of Efficiency and Productivity: A Case Study of Rubber Production in Southern Thailand”. I presented my research for 8 minutes and 2 minutes for question and answer. Everything was very well, and there were two questions from those attending the conference, which made me to find more information to complete the knowledge and I was very impressed.

- The responses and gains from the meeting?

All two days I attended conference, I gained new knowledge and ideas from another research in business management and education, such as performance measurement and economic efficiency measurement which involve with my research. I gained the knowledge in another field of business management and education from oral presentations and posters. Moreover, I also had the opportunity to connect with another colleagues and researchers from different places.

- Comments and suggestions

I gained a lot of new knowledge in business management and education from this conference, which is a great experience to apply to academic work and research in the future. Consequently, I think it would be good if many students could attend this conference for next time.
